break had been made. The table in the cabin was not, however, drawing down as it had been. The cabin stairs, as if it had been heavy, were off, but no living thing was found on board, excepting a dog, which was seen when they stepped on the deck. The boats were both missing, and the long boat had been recently hoisted out, as was evident by the tackles on the yards; but the baggage of the officers and crew had apparently not been disturbed. The log book was missing, but the ship's papers and the Captain's writings, with the exception of his journal, were all found in regular order. The questions were asked, where are the crew? What terrible event compelled them at a moment's warning to quit the vessel, and what has been their fate? Suspicious of the most dreadful kind were aroused—suspicions of piracy or murder. But no blood or traces of a desperate struggle were seen on the decks. Some thought that the crew, alarmed at the approach of a squall, or some imaginary danger, took to the boats and were lost. But these questions were not satisfactorily answered. The facts furnished but slight grounds for an hypothesis. No traces of the crew were ever discovered during the life time of those who witnessed the approach of the lonely vessel to the strand; and many believed, and the belief is entertained by some to this day, that the brig was guided safely past the reefs and dangers of the coast, and through the narrow channel to her destined port and home, by some mysterious supernatural power!

JOHN M. BOTTS ON SLAVERY.

John M. Botts in addressing the people of Virginia "said he had never publicly expressed his views upon slavery, but would do so now. In a MORAL and religious point of view, he had no objection to slavery. Contrasting the negro slaves in this country, with their African ancestors, slavery seems to be a humanizing, civilizing and christianizing institution. POLITICALLY, it was an evil. Virginia had lost on the system. Younger States were shooting far ahead of the Old Dominion. We had only to look at Ohio, Indiana and other free States, to learn our true position and the value of the two systems. ECONOMICALLY it was decidedly wrong."
We hardly need say that we differ entirely from the brave Virginian, in the mode of stating his issue. If he is right, the slave trade is a humane institution, and our government is wrong, in declaring it to be piracy. We had supposed, and we still suppose, that American slavery is not to be justified or condemned by comparing the present condition of the slave, with the condition of his ancestors when they were first arrested by some barbarian Congo Chieftain, it may be among the jungles of Central Africa. But rather, we are to look at the present condition of the slave, not as so much capital to be invested in the most economical way, but as a man endowed with all the capabilities of ordinary men, and then, to ask ourselves, if he has the benefit of all his natural rights.
Our Teutonic ancestors a few centuries back were but little less barbarous than were the ancestors of the slave population of the South. But that is no reason why we should be made slaves. The principle which Botts states covers the case of the Anglo-Saxon race as well as the African, and the latter, in but a little stronger, than the former. The fact is, that the whole doctrine of slavery rests upon the law of force and not upon any principle of moral right.

It is based upon the power of the Caucasian to subdue the African race. A power, not only stronger than the African race, and able to control it, but strong enough to control the state and to subvert its aid in the accomplishment of the object of subjugating the one race to the other.
Our interest in this question is rather remote, the South is more immediately interested in its solution. It is only important for us to consider it, when we are called upon to determine as to the propriety of extending this institution into the territories in which the Northern States are interested that it is material for us to examine into the rights of the slave, or the policy of slavery. We may differ with our neighbors of the South as to the mode of managing their affairs, but it would be both indelicate and unlawful for us to interfere in the control of their business.

WIDE AWAKE POLITICS.

The Wilmington (N. C.) Journal, publishes the following:
An Old Game.—The game of panic, especially bank panic, on the eve of a Presidential election, is so uniformly practiced that everybody expects it just as certainly as they do any other symptom of our four-yearly excitement. The Raleigh Register, the leading organ of the Belle and Everett party in this State, gravely informs us that the Bank of North Carolina has determined to stop discounting, and all that sort of thing, and then goes on to argue as a remedy for bank contraction, that we should all vote for Bell and Everett. Now, we recollect some few Presidential elections, and the editor of The Register recollects some few more. We never saw a Presidential election pass without this same sort of talk, and perhaps action on the part of the banks. They are sure to be about to suspend their usual discounts. Why, it is as natural as flowers in May, or dead leaves in Autumn. The people are used to that talk, and will not be influenced by it one iota. We presume our moneyed institutions will go on as usual, consulting prudence, and paying respect to the usual indications that influence sensible men in other vocations. But this accustomed cry coming from some political panic-maker, will go for what it is worth. It was found out twenty years ago, and more perhaps, it is a humbug. The laws of trade will vindicate themselves without respect to political-financial panics or panic-makers. They always have done so.

A New Idea.—A North Carolinian proposes to divide the Union, and "have on the dividing border a territory of one hundred miles width, peopled by pro-slavery men without a slave in it." That is, we suppose, by Northern Democrats.

A Nut to Crack.—The Republicans of Massachusetts to be Outdone.—Bennett, of the New York Herald, proclaims that New York will vote for Lincoln, and by a larger majority than any other State. Hear him;—"Common justice to all concerned, demands that this idea that 'something may turn up' to redeem New York should be abandoned. New York will vote for Lincoln and by a larger majority, we dare say, than any other State. Lincoln will be elected. There is no use in mincing the matter any longer. Lincoln will be elected, and all parties concerned may as well just now shape their course to that event as to wait till the day after election."

Horrible Intelligence.—We were seriously told this morning that a plot is actually on foot for the forcible seizure of the polls in the city of New York, by Capt. Rynders, and his men who purpose to exclude all the Lincoln votes, and to stuff the ballot boxes, until the majority against Lincoln in the State shall reach 75,000 votes. Quale orrore! as the Italian opera singers exclaim.—Baltimore Patriot.

About the same time, probably, the "bloody abolitionists" will enter the city of Charleston, South Carolina, and after slaughtering the principal inhabitants, entrench themselves upon the border of the city, and hold it as a hostage for the good behavior of South Carolina fire eaters.

Fusion in Georgia Repudiated by a Douglasite.—The Augusta Constitutionalist, the home organ of Alexander H. Stevens, says that there is no chance of defeating Lincoln, excepting in New York, and winds up an article on the subject of a union with the Bell men in Georgia, as follows:
"We repudiate fusion with all parties, and for all purposes. For it is too late to be practically entered into; too late for a joint convention; too late for a cordial action; too late to influence the North, and we do not consider the vote of Georgia as really worth the paper it would take to record it, for any body."

Another Postmaster for Lincoln.—The Lansing (Mich.) Republican, noticing a discussion at Peals upon the political topics of the day, which took place between Hon. Henry A. Shaw and O. M. Barnes, Esq., says it was attended by a sudden conversion. The Douglas Postmaster was present, and after the discussion, declared himself a Republican, and presided in the evening of the same day at a regular Republican meeting.

New York.—The New York Times, generally careful in its political calculations, says:
"The fusion committee may set this State down as certain to give Lincoln fifty thousand majority—and every dollar they spend in the country will increase that majority."

Herschell V. Johnson in Madison County.—A subscriber to the New York Evening Post, writing from Madison county, N. Y., to that paper, says:
"Herschell V. Johnson spoke near here last week, taking all the wind out of the sails of such Democrats as have been 'as much opposed to slavery as anybody,' by defending slavery, and declaring that the Democratic party were in favor of defending and protecting it. His address was rather a coarse affair, very thickly interlarded with the epithets of 'God forsaken Black Republicans,' and 'Hell-deserving Black Republicans,' for which he was more applauded by a portion of his admirers than any other sentiment he uttered. He also preached division sentiments very strongly for a northern atmosphere."

For Business Men to Consider.—We are informed that a very distinguished merchant of this city, prominent hitherto in every Union movement, and a zealous anti-Republican in principle, has declared his purpose to vote for Lincoln, as a business operation. He wants this Presidential contest ended—the sooner the better. If Mr. Lincoln is elected, we shall know the worst at once, and can be prepared to meet it. But if the controversy is to be carried to the House of Representatives, it will engross public attention for at least four months, and will paralyze the business of the country for the whole season. He says he cannot afford to have his business stand still so long.
This is a perfectly sensible and practical view of the case, and we commend it to the attention of our business men generally.—N. Y. Times.

The North Carolina Standard croaks in this wise:
"In the event of the election of Abe Lincoln, the Governor of Alabama has been authorized by the Legislature to issue writs of election, and summon a Convention of the people of that State within forty days, to determine what course had better be pursued under the calamity. It is believed that South Carolina will take a similar step, and also, Mississippi."
The same paper grows cheerful again on a small crumb of comfort:

"Good News.—The Richmond Enquirer publishes a letter from an intelligent resident of the City of New York, who writes that, after having traveled through every county in the State, his opinion is that Lincoln will be beaten 40,000 votes by the Fusion ticket. We like to look on the bright side, but we confess we fear that the prediction of this correspondent will not be verified. The destiny of the country is in the hands of New York. If she votes for Lincoln he will be elected. What the consequences will be no one can foresee."

It is said that General Joseph Lane is so thoroughly disgusted with his adopted State, Oregon, that he declares that he will never return thereto, but will go back to his native soil North Carolina.

MORE HANGING IN TEXAS.

A Northern Man and Woman Hung.—[From The Canton (Ill.) Register, Oct. 25.]
The reader will remember that a few weeks since we stated, on the authority of a letter received at Fairview, that Dr. Shreeves and Mr. Foster, with their families, had been warned by the ruffians who hold sway in Texas to leave that State, and were making preparations to return to Illinois. On Thursday last Mr. Wm. Bybee, a resident of Texas, well known to many of our citizens as a dealer in cattle and horses, arrived from that State, and brought to the friends of Fairview the melancholy intelligence that Dr. Shreeves and Mrs. Foster had fallen victims to the spirit of outrage which runs riot in Texas.
The two families, it seems, had complied with the ruthless command expelling them from their homes, and were on their way toward this State, when they were overtaken by their persecutors, and Dr. Shreeves and Mrs. Foster summarily secured and hung to a tree. Mr. Foster and the remainder of the two families escaped.

We get the news from Dr. Shreeves of Fairview, a nephew of the Dr. Shreeves above referred to, and who has no doubt as to its authenticity. He says Mr. Bybee was a friend and neighbor of his uncle's, and an acquaintance of fifteen years standing.
No letters have been received from Dr. Shreeves or Mr. Foster for eight weeks, by their friends at Fairview, a circumstance of fearful portent as heretofore they have been prompt correspondents. At no previous time have they permitted letters to them to remain so long unanswered.
In our sympathy for the afflicted friends of these martyrs to the cause of free labor, we have no disposition to bestow upon the authors of this enormous crime, those denunciations which their guilt deserves. "Vengeance is mine," saith the Lord, and these ruffian murderers cannot escape the malediction which made Cain a wanderer and an outcast upon the earth.
We will remark by way of explanation, that Dr. Shreeves was not only not an abolitionist, but we are informed by his connections at Fairview, was in favor of Slavery, and was preparing to make investments in negroes. When he left this State he was a Douglas man. The only ground for disturbing him was his being a Northern man, and coming from a section where free white labor is respected.

Death of "Grizzly Adams."—Thousands of people in all parts of the country from Maine to California, will learn with regret of the death of J. G. Adams, better known as "Old Grizzly Adams" by his numerous and perilous adventures with grizzly bears and other savage animals, accounts of which have been published in the newspapers. His eventful and somewhat heroic career closed peacefully at the home of his daughter, in Neponset, yesterday, in his 48th year. The immediate cause of his death was the open wound on his head, received in one of his encounters with a grizzly bear, which would never heal.—Boston Herald.

Mayor Wood said he would pay for the display made at the reception of the Prince of Wales in New York, the firemen's parade, &c., out of his own pocket, and gained considerable glory by the announcement, but now he asks the city government to pay it out of the public treasury. It is probable that the sum will be from $7000 to $10,000.

Various Items.
New York, Oct. 29.—The police have arrested a gang of counterfeiters having a large quantity of spurious bills on the East River Bank.
The propeller Victoria was seized on Saturday on suspicion of being a slave. A Washington dispatch says that Gov. Letcher, of Virginia, reports that four batteries will be at Richmond this week, and that 19 companies of cavalry are reported to him as being organized.

The Case of Gen. Harney.
Washington, Oct. 29.—A decision in the case of Gen. Harney has been made by the President, and will be promulgated through the Secretary of War. It is understood to be a slight censure only.

It has been said that, after clearing the land, the Prince's fleet would make way for England under sail, without the aid of steam. This is incorrect. In order to save the Prince's term at Oxford, it is necessary that he should reach home by the 4th proximo; so that the utmost expedition will be used by the fleet to reach the English landing-port, if possible, within twelve days of the time of sailing. This will save a suspension of the college laws in favor of His Royal Highness, and justify the strict order by which royal movements are regulated in England. The example is one by which Americans might profit.

LOCAL NEWS ITEMS.

WELL MERITED REWARD.—We understand the "Association of Banks for the suppression of Counterfeiting," in Boston, have sent the City Marshal of NEWPORT, Mr. Robert Seattle, a gift of fifty dollars for arresting Messrs. Carlo Dani and Giuseppe Cappini, two noted counterfeiters.

Mr. Seattle succeeded in arresting these notorious rogues on the road between Newport and Fall River, several miles North of this city, after unavailing exertions and we are pleased that this substantial compliment has been shown to perhaps the shrewdest member of our Newport police.

be arrest took place some weeks since and the circumstance was mentioned at this time in this paper.

DIED.

GREAT INDIAN REMEDY.

For Females.

Dr. Mattison's Indian Emmenagogue.

This celebrated Female Medicine, possessing virtues unknown to any other of the kind, and being perfectly safe and effective after all other remedies have failed, is prepared from an Indian Plant used by the natives for the same purpose from time immemorial. It is designed for both men and women, and is the very best thing known to the medical profession, as it will bring on the monthly menses, after all other remedies have failed, and is perfectly safe and effective after all other remedies have failed. It is designed for both men and women, and is the very best thing known to the medical profession, as it will bring on the monthly menses, after all other remedies have failed, and is perfectly safe and effective after all other remedies have failed.

1000 Bottles

Have you sold in eighteen months, without a single failure, when taken as directed, and without the least injury to health in any case. It is put up in three different strengths, with all directions for its use, and is sold in three different parts of the country. PRICES: Full strength, $1.00; Half strength, $0.50; Quarter strength, $0.25. Either will cure, but the strongest is the best. It is taken in a glass of water, and is perfectly safe and effective after all other remedies have failed. It is designed for both men and women, and is the very best thing known to the medical profession, as it will bring on the monthly menses, after all other remedies have failed, and is perfectly safe and effective after all other remedies have failed.

SEWING MACHINES.

LANGLEY & NORMAN would inform the citizens of Newport and vicinity, that they have been appointed agents for GROVER & BAKER'S CELEBRATED SEWING MACHINES, and that they are now prepared to furnish Manufacturing or the Improved Family Machines, at Manufacturers' prices.

W. C. Langley, special attention to the IMPROVED SHUTTLE MACHINE, it being very simple, not liable to get out of order, uses a straight needle, runs with great speed, and makes the stitch alike on both sides. Though made expressly for TAILORS and SHOE BINDERS, it is found to be as well, if not better, adapted to the general work of a family as any machine that has yet been invented. These machines are sold for $50, though capable of doing any work that can be done with any of the $100 Sewing Machines.
